Greetings from the Governor

As Governor, I am privileged to congratulate the Boy Scouts of America on one-hundred years of service. I also extend my gratitude to this fine organization for continuing to touch the lives of today's youth throughout West Virginia and the entire nation.

The proud tradition of scouting teaches many lessons: including leadership skills, character building and the value of community involvement. By educating our youth about the importance of volunteerism and integrity, this organization prepares each generation to function as productive and caring members of society. Furthermore, this emphasis on outstanding citizenship has been the catalyst for countless positive contributions to American communities.

On behalf of Mountaineers everywhere, I commend the Boy Scouts of America for decades of dedication and commitment. Keep up the good work!

With warmest regards,
